Loch Etive is an arm of the sea which flows into the northern extremity of the Firth of Lorne. Lofty and precipitous peaks border its shores, chief among which are Ben Cruachan (3,689 feet), Ben Starav (3,541 feet), and Stob Ghruar (3,655 feet). At the northern extremity is the beautiful Glen Etive, one of the most famous beauty spots in the Western Highlands.

Dear Dorothy, I am so sorry that I shall not be able to come out with you tomorrow (Thursday). I have an engagement which I must keep. I am sending a card to Elsie Edwardes now. I will let you know when I shall return from London.
